Reading 1:

Movies can be more than entertainment—they can also provide insights into the changing concerns and interests of the culture in which they were made. A consideration of Hollywood's cinematic offerings provides an example of this. In the 50s, a large number of science fiction films were made which often featured vicious, mutant creatures born out of radioactive contact or accidents. It comes as no surprise that producers during that decade would focus on the perils of radiation, given two major cultural fears of the time: the Cold War between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. and the fear of atomic war that resulted in the H bomb.

1. This reading is about ...

A. Hollywood's interest in science fiction movies
B. how movies influence the culture of the time
C. the way movies respond to society's changing interests.
D. science fiction themes through time

Do people think you are smart? ☐ are your grades (成績) at school?
Even if they are not so good, your brain may still be smarter or have power that you don't know about. For example, some people believe that the brain (大腦) has ☐ powers that we must work ☐ to get stronger.
Spending lots of time sitting quietly and ☐ of only one thing, these people believe that later they will be able to move something with their mind. However, ☐ believe that this has nothing to do with the mind, but that it has to do with powerful bad spirits that we can't see.

At Thanksgiving, many Americans come together with those they love and they celebrate (慶祝). They usually celebrate ☐ cooking and eating a large dinner together. Most people will eat turkey ☐ stuffing - the turkey can take hours ☐. While it is cooking, people also cook sweet potatoes and corn. Some ☐ mashed potatoes and gravy. ☐ prepare cranberry sauce to eat with the

Since the beginning of civilization people have used colors to express a certain meaning. Red has traditionally been symbolic of passion, danger and love. Green reminded people of growing plants and trees so it has been used to convey freshness and new life. Blue has made people recall the ocean and sky, so people use it to represent tranquility.

What is interesting is that opposing cultures have chosen opposite colors to depict a certain idea. In Asian cultures death is associated with white and in Western cultures black is used to indicate death. When you decide to study a new language, don’t forget to learn how this culture interprets colors. It will help you understand more deeply the thinking of a different people.

Regular exercise is not only good for keeping a trim shape. Scientists tell us that when we do physical activity our body releases endorphins. Endorphins are hormones that make us feel good. They also help to keep us emotionally stable. You might hear people who jog frequently say,
In Part II, you will hear 15 conversations between a man and a woman. After each conversation, you will hear a question about the conversation. After you hear the question, read the four choices in your test book and choose the best answer to the question.

1. Choose the best answer:
   a. The importance of doing one's own schoolwork.
   b. How to overcome intimidation and shyness.
   c. An assignment for history class at school.
   d. The responsibilities of being the top student in class.

2. Choose the best answer:
   a. Her boyfriend forgot about Valentine's Day.
   b. She and her boyfriend split up on Valentine's Day.
   c. She got yellow roses instead of red on Valentine's Day.
   d. She was hoping to get flowers from a certain friend on Valentine's Day.

In Part III, you will read several passages or charts. Each passage is followed by several questions. There are a total of 20 questions. You are to choose the best answer, A, B, C or D, to each question on the basis of what is stated or implied in the passage.

Q1-Q21:
In the land down under, the weather is changing. Why? Interestingly, it has nothing to do with pollution. Nor does it have to do with global warming. El Niño, nor any other inexplicable weather phenomenon. In fact, the climate change has to do with the erection of a fence way back in 1937. How so? First of all, the fence was necessary to halt the influx of pesky rabbits into Western Australia's precious farmlands toward the late 20th century. Thus, the fence was officially named No. 1 Rabbit Proof Fence—not too creative, but it fit the bill. To the west of the fence was farmland, to the east, lush wilderness. In any case, the fence worked—for awhile. Although later the barrier proved unsuccessful to completely overcome the

1. What is the passage really trying to convey?
   a. That to protect his livelihood, man has the ingenuity to find solutions to obstacles.
   b. That Australia's sudden climate changes will eventually be a major contributing factor in global warming.
   c. That despite having noble ideas, it seems impossible for man to
In this part of the test, you will be asked several questions. There are answer A, B, C or D, to each question.
